ASSEMBLY.

Messrs. Editors: Please announce that any in the unhappy circumstances of two interested parties lagging their common country.

Thus there exists in the State two separate bodies,

who pretend to absolute independence, and between whom there is no judge. They decide their quarrel by arms (acts of law), and as no different nations would do. The obligation to observe the common laws of war toward each other is therefore absolute—indispensably binding on both parties, and the same which the law of nature imposes on all nations in transactions

between State and State.

The Novelist, Beecher.

The New York correspondent of the Syracuse

Standard tells the following story of the Rev. Alicton Beecher and his "last new novel."

Talking of words and actions, a conversation was had between a friend and Mr. Beecher, regarding "Norman," which was altogether characteristic of the good Dumble:

"I have possessed you to write a novel, Mr.

Beecher?"

"I can't tell you, precisely. I have always refused to do that thing; but Beecher would not give me a moment's peace until I had promised.

I was influenced by two considerations—the price and time. I have some things to say which may not be said in the pulpit."

"And that is the idea, is it?" I have never observed that you hesitated much if you wanted to say anything in the pulpit."

"People think so, but it is a mistake; and since I commenced this book I have had many number of them come to me and declare that I ought not to write a novel. I was not a 'muni-ficent,' and all that; but when these good folks begged me to do it, I am disposed to do it. If I choose to write a novel, I will; but how the thing has bothered me!"

"I am glad of it—you will know now what our poor wretches have to suffer to make a business of it."

"It is all very well for you who have nothing else to do," replied Mr. Beecher with a lugubrious expression of countenance. "But you write sermons a week and do it as well as I do my novel writing at the same time."

"No, I thank you, one of these occupations is enough for me," said my friend. "But how are you writing it, in numbers, or is it all finished?"

"I am sending it to the printer."

"Then you are making a big mistake. If you are not careful you will have a printer's devil chasing you about, hunting for 'emphs,' and then heaven help you. I tell you to finish it, and send it to the printer. I will make a better thing of it than you can make of it."

"Don't send it in small lots."

"I will," said Beecher humbly.

"You must not. I beg of you, for the sake of the artistic construction of the story, to make

The interference case between Col. P. Shillier and the Anglo-Austrian inventor Voev, which has been pending in the Patent Office for more than a year, has just been decided by the Board of Examiners in favor of Colonel Shillier.

The principal involved had reference to the use of gun-cotton of different diversities in the same charge. By this discovery it has been found practical to use gun-cotton in small arms to great advantage over gunpowder, effecting greater penetration.

Ex-Governor Brown, of Georgia, has again addressed a large assembly of people in his State, counselling them to accept the terms of the Military Reconstruction bill.

The Times' special says: Though Mr. Ashley is pressing the Judiciary Committee to prepare an act of inquiry into the case of the late Governor, he believes the committee are any longer for impeachment than at the adjournment of Congress.

It is stated that President Johnson has also sent a letter to Breckinridge, inviting him to resign.

The World's special says: A remark made in open court yesterday by Mr. Morrill, one of the counsel for Sumner, that his client would never be tried, is eliciting considerable emotion.

It is believed to be based on an understanding of the indictment for murder, with a view of having the next grand jury bring in a bill against Sumner for treason. If this is done it will necessarily postpone the trial.

St. Louis, May 28.

The Indian war on the Platte route is fairly begun. Ranches are burned, stock stolen and settlers murdered daily. Gen. Smith and staff passed Fort Sedgewick yesterday en route to the mouth of the Platte, opposite Fort Hodge. They will leave for Fort Hodge in a day or two. Other detachments are stationed at different places along the route, some of them guarding railroad employees. Troops are also being sent to the Forts. Laramie and Phil Kearney. Gen. Custer is reported to have arrived at Fort McPherson from the South with his cavalry.

Sergeant Manly and two civilians were killed on Fort Creek, thirty-six miles from Fort Sedgewick. Three railroad cutters were also killed near Cheyenne Pass.

Spotted Tail and a few of his braves are camped at North Platte. His policies are in a peaceful condition. His war and peace policy, but he professes peace. Burnt ranches and the road and fresh graves are seen very frequently. Companies of infantry protect the railroad, but the Indians laugh at infantry.

Circular to the Charitable and Appeal in Behalf of Distressed Friends.

Date of dubiter vobis.

TITUSVILLE, CRAWFORD CO., Pa., May 28th, 1867.

The Rev. Napoleon Mignault, pastor of St. Titus' Church of this city, would respectfully submit the following brief statement to the kind public, which should prompt a few thousands to do all in their power to come to the rescue, viz:

Some three years ago, when plenty, successful and prosperously dwelled here, blessed these oil regions, a much needed church, presbytery and school house were, with the authorization of our Right Reverend Bishop, hastily built and completed. The heavy debt of twelve thousand ($12,000) dollars was incurred by it, hoping to liquidate it, as everything indicated a lasting prosperity. But to his great regret, hard times destroyed his plans and hopes. After much labor, and the incessant toil of two years, he finds himself entirely unable to pay off the heavy indebtedness. He has tried all available means at home—reunions, donations, collections, lectures, &c.,—taxed his parishioners to their utmost ability, surrendered, to a great extent, his own personal resources, failed after all in accomplishing his object, and is driven to the necessity of having recourse to a grand gift concert and fair, at which over ten thousand ($10,000) dollars worth of prizes shall be distributed, some of the prizes being worth as much as $500. A list of some of the prizes can be seen on the back of the ticket. Please notice that only 15,000 tickets shall be issued at one dollar a ticket.

When all this is considered, the Rev. N. Mignault feels that this application to purchase tickets entitling to a gift at the fair will not be made in vain nor considered intrusive. Send one dollar to his address, which will entitle you to a ticket to the fair and to a prize. A partial list of prizes can be seen on the back of the ticket.

As to the matter of taxation or anything of that character, the Rev. N. M. is as much opposed to them as any other Christian; his is no such scheme, or the ecclesiastical authorities would not have given their kind approbation, which may be seen below. Let prompt attention be given to the matter; let the money be forwarded to the Rev. N. Mignault, Titusville, Postoffice drawer 1,305, in Postoffice orders, so that the fair may take place about ninety days from date. Remember, only 15,000 tickets, at one dollar each, entitling the holder to a free admittance and a prize, some of which are worth $500.

ATTESTATION OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

This is to certify, that Rev. Napoleon Mignault, pastor of St. Titus' church, Titusville, Pa., proposes to pay the heavy debts on his church and parsonage and convent by getting up a Grand Gift Concert and Fair; indeed, he must have recourse to some means of this kind, otherwise the generous Catholics of Titusville, who have already been over-taxed in consequence of the large improvements made, will not be able to pay off their debts. I approve of the zeal that dictates the enterprise.

[S.] JOHN D. COADY, Administrator.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.—I, the undersigned, Pastor of St. Titus' church, Titusville, Pa., do hereby certify that the proceeds of our Grand Fair and Gift Distribution, to take place in this city, shall be appropriated to the exclusive charitable object of liquidating the many debts of our church, parsonage and convent—Fair to take place in about ninety days.

PITTSBURGH OIL MARKET.

(Special to the Morning Herald.)

Pittsburgh, May 30.

Crude—The market is dull and neglected, with a wide margin between buyers and sellers. In the absence of sales we quote oil on spot at 7½¢. This morning's dispatches from Oil City report that market quiet at $2.75, and $2.55 for 47 gr. at the wells.

Refined—Sales of 1,200 barrels standard white, delivered in Philadelphia first half of June, at 24½¢. We quote prime light straw in white at 24½¢ with but a limited demand.

Free Oil—Dull but unchanged; small sales at 40¢ for standard brands.

The arrivals reach 6,000 barrels, and shipments stand at 1,000. A. B. Cheney's Valley Railroad amount to 2,000 barrels refined.

LIVERPOOL PETROLEUM MARKET.

CAUTION.—The public is cautioned against employing any but the regularly authorized agents of this company, since their patent, now in the second edition of the Commissioner of Patents for the United States, covers the use of the Torpedo and all other explosive materials for all wells, and all other appliances by other parties is a direct infringement of their rights, and we shall hold fast working interests to a strict accountability for such infringements.

burrels, and had decreased to 10 burrels at the time of the increased flow to flowing 6 burrels.

Further down the line at the top pumped about 20 burrels, had decreased until the Torpedo went out, and is now pumping 40 burrels, with every indication that it will soon flow, as it is increasing both in gas and oil.

Three other wells in the same neighborhood have been started pumping, in the aggregate about 15 burrels, in producing oil.

One of them is now flowing and the other two are pumping, they will, with slight appearance, reach a much higher point.

We believe there has not been a single exception of the wells in this Torpedo has not greatly benefited the well operation, up to this time.

Mr. Harriet's Torpedo has in its well the entire contents of the Torpedo in two days, and he believes all the wells in the neighborhood will be benefited.

The increase has nearly as we can learn to the right extent, the wells, taken together, is fully 100 per cent, over the highest flow of the Torpedo, and 1000 per cent, over the use of the time the Torpedo was expended in them, being 50 per cent, of the Torpedo.

These results cannot fail to be satisfactory in the highest degrees, four, respectively.

TOWNSHIPS FOR OIL WELLS—NORSE BENEFICIARIES. HARRIS—Colonel Harris has cordially received our congratulations upon the success of his litigation for re-annulling abandoned wells and increasing the produce from oil fields. The Township is evidently doomed to effect a complete revolution in oil mining, and the beneficial results can scarcely be over-rated. The following is the substance of the Township's evidence at the Petroleum Centre. Their testimony as to the results of the application is perfectly conclusive:

"The Township of Norse, Alaska, has heretofore applied in our wells to this date with the following results: In Anderson well No. 1, from one production recently (70) barrels to 100 barrels; in the same well, from type-55 (55 barrels) well, from one barrel 24, increased production thirty-five (35) barrels daily.

"In the same well, the 'Roberts Turpoed' is of no interest in oil, as we have not met with a single failure, and believe the Turpoed to be of greater practical value than any fraction introduced in the production of oil.

A. C. HAWKINS

Petroleum Centre, July 12, 1916.

BLOOD FARM, January 25, 1906.

We, whose names are hereto annexed, do hereby testify that we are acquainted with and have known the above-named HENRY BYRON, and known as "the Duke Lewis No. 7,"—now called the "Woods Well"—and that said well has been drilled by him or under his supervision, and is located in all practical ways without obtaining any of us as a last resort, the owners of the well applied to Col. J. H. LUTHER, Superintendent of the Roberts Petroleum Turpedo Company, to operate on the well. This explosion of two Turpedines in the third sand-rock resulted in the production of gas and oil from the well, and several barrels of oil. In view of those facts, we confidently recommend a trial of the Roberts' Turpedo to all wells which may be bored in the same locality, and which fail to produce. We consider the invention to be one of great practical value, as evidenced by the conversion of this well into a profitable oil producer to our worth many thousand dollars. (Signed)
